CHAPTER 1

THE WORLD OF SPLENDOR

OVERVIEW

Welcome to Splendor; Splendor is a reborn world created from Fogarty Iniko's madness, melting, the old world before being killed and replaced by the new God of freedom/madness, [PLACEHOLDER]. Splendor is a realm of calamity filled to the brim with abominations made from all of the souls that could not find new homes in this world. Along with that, this world has existed for hundreds of centuries to it's locals however many people have recently been reborn into this world with all of their old memories. These billions of people suddenly added to the worlds population with nowhere to go has begun putting Splendor into confusion.

Along with all of this, the souls of all living creatures have gained "Soul Sparks" whether or not a creature's soul sparks is determined by their bloodlines or experiences through life. those who have sparked their souls are known as "Soul Sparkers" (More on Soul Sparkers in chapter 18).

GEOGRAPHY

- Ebisu: A vast temperate forest and jungle, dominated by the golden spires of engineering academies. At its center stands a colossal wizard's tower whose summits pierce the clouds; its secrets are guarded by automatons.
- Yiroxxa: A rugged realm of highlands and passes, famed for the great mountain city of Crantarl, carved into the living stone. Deep under its peaks lie dwarven forges and cathedrals of crystal.
- Heathcrow: Once a desolate hell-plane overlay, it is now a gothic nightmare land. Endless ruined streets and black forests hide savage beasts and cursed men. Scattered "Deadzones" – fortified enclaves of relative safety – shelter the few living souls here, ringed by horrors.
- Ploutos: A fertile archipelago in temperate waters, named for its wealth. A giant smile-shaped lake lies at its center, feeding rich farmlands. Ploutos's people prize strength and competition; gladiatorial arenas and military academies are common.
- Cuhtli: A scorching desert nation in the south. The legendary Crescent Oasis provides life-giving water to the dunes. It is ruled by the Sun Qitzu clan, a warlike dynasty that values honor and sacrifice.
- Guana:td
- Tartarus: A gigantic prison-archipelago, ringed by storms. Formed by Yiroxxa and Ebisu's rulers, it confines the worst criminals in living nightmare dungeons.

TRAVEL BETWEEN NATIONS

Sea Travel The most common form of long-distance movement. Ships vary from merchant vessels to heavily armed warships.

Air Travel Rare and expensive. Typically limited to mechanical air vessels from Ebisu or creatures.

Magical Travel Teleportation and planar movement exist but are heavily restricted, incredibly unstable, and deemed one of the most dangerous, illegal and difficult forms of magic.

Land Travel Limited between nations due to natural barriers such as oceans, mountains, and hostile territories.

Dangers of Travel Travel is not safe. Storms, sea creatures, piracy, and magical anomalies all threaten those who journey across Splendor.

CHAPTER 2

COSMOLOGY & PLANES

STRUCTURE OF THE PLANES

SPLENDOR'S COSMOLOGY FOLLOWS A PLANAR MULTIVERSE.

- The Material Plane is the physical world of Splendor, along with its fey-touched forests and infernal overlays (like Heathcrow). Beyond it lie:
- The Fey Realm: A plane of wild magic and eternal twilight, home to fey lords. Its forests are reflected in Ebisu's enchanted groves. The Seven Hells: Infernal layers, each a twisted mirror of mortal sins (pride, envy, wrath, etc.). Heathcrow itself is overlapped by the Hell of Pride, creating its "EverFear" curse.
- The Celestial Outskirts: The outer realm of the gods. It is a distant heavenscape where deities dwell in mortal forms. Each god's afterlife kingdom is on a smaller demiplane there.
- Other Realms: Mythic or forbidden realms exist (Abyssal waste, elemental realms), but travel to them is nearly impossible or cataclysmic.

KNOWN PLANES

- Material (Splendor): The world itself, including all mortal lands.
- 7 Hells: Infernal layers; entering one (via magic or portal) is strongly taboo. Only dark rituals or planar disasters (like Heathcrow's origin) breach its gates.
- Fey Realm: Feywild-like dimension of seasonal forests and trickery. A handful of Yiroxxan and Ebisu archmages maintain hidden links here.
- Celestial Outskirts: Home of the gods. Only one permanent gate exists (built by ancient priests), and it requires unique relics to open – usually an artifact tied to a specific deity.

CHAPTER 3

THE GODS

STRUCTURE OF THE PANTHEON

- Each God(s) Controls its own outer plain that sits outside of the material planes where creatures who pass away spend their afterlives depending on their actions in life.

MAJOR DEITIES

- God Of Madness; Spud (chaotic Neutral)
- Gods Of Vengeance And Love; Torog and Tharizdunn (lawful Evil)

SOULS AND THE NATURE OF LIFE

WHAT IS A SOUL?

- Souls are the changing strings of life that inhabit all living beings. some people's souls have small sparks of excess life potential around them that can be used as a form of magic to temporarily ignite one's soul, burning away their life expectancy in exchange for magic.

CHAPTER 9

EBISU

OVERVIEW

- A massive continent easily set apart from its neighbors due to advanced machinery, an amazing turnout of engineering phenomena and a culture of commercialization and industry. In many ways, life is much “faster” than elsewhere.

GOVERNMENT

- Ebisu’s vast land is home to several nations and smaller city states, each a form of Oligarchy or Plutocracy where power and wealth are concentrated among houses and lineages both in charge of industrial sectors and with legislative roles. State capitalism plays a huge role, in which government officials dip into commercial activities in order to turn a profit or further a political agenda. Many of these societies have councils and forms of democratic government, but are undermined by the robber baron captains of industry who become de facto kings of large portions of land.

CULTURE

- Ebisu’s culture largely stems from the growing wealth disparity between the upper and lower classes. Those of high social status vie in a never-ending power struggle for any seat, largely uncaring of the thousands of paupers displaced in the process.
“Power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely”
Ebisu’s rich see those outside their class as lesser, uncultured, and as mere pawns. They engage in extravagant showings, frivolous spending, and a general lifestyle of decadence and abuse. They lose any mental space to regard other people, as their minds are filled with a vast, almost infinite sea of gold. Toward the other end, Ebisu’s lower class boasts a vibrant and incredibly diverse cultural spectrum. Different ethnic groups practice their traditions, largely ignored by noblemen who deem other cultures inferior. In recent times, many schools of thought and traditions have begun an undercurrent of rebellion. A sort of “class consciousness” has alerted the poor to the nature of their wealthy abusers. The lens with which tradition is viewed, therefore, has been shifted to adapt.

MAJOR CITIES

HEATHCROW

OVERVIEW

- Cursed to be a land of nightmares and a literal plane of hell forced to overlap with Splendor. HeathCrow is one of the 7 hells, specifically the Hell of pride. Anyone who dies and would be sent to hell for pride are reborn (as a “Reborn” in most cases) here in some way and all people naturally born here are treated by the plane the same way as a reborn in the fact that they are trapped in HeathCrow and never allowed to leave. HeathCrow is for the most part a gothic lawless land of nightmares however each major city is often part of places known as “Deadzones” where Reborn are often not allowed to enter. These Deadzones were at one point lands of nightmares that demons dared not enter but after centuries of refinement, they have obtained (relatively) safe cities with walls surrounding them and laws inside. These cities are where most traders stay and often meet for high value sales.

GOVERNMENT

- City State Government

CULTURE

- victorian era depression and poverty
- “Fool King” is a term for the dead who have caused the creation of Deadzones specifically birthed to torment said individual. every Deadzone has a “Fool King” that rules over it and is tormented by it.

MAJOR CITIES

- Crasula (Eldritch horror city)
- Vockrenha (Gothic horror city)
- Wulanbraum (Massive forest with folktale monsters and fucked up druids.)
- Corolipsa (Zombie horror city)
- Arachnaed (Bug horror city)
- Plagruuiam (Plague/doctor horror city)
- Eberran (Steampunk horror city)
- Glaadiuntra (Underground/mining horror city.)
- Thalassophane (giant lake city full of sea monsters.)
- Coulrolachnillicia (Carnival town - Clown horror)
- Atychianae (gambling city full of only gacha games, mystery boxes and card packs.)

Warlock: The void, undead
Pact boon: Pact of the trigger
Wizard: Osteomancer

GUILDS & FACTIONS

- The Golden Guild (Miners guild. due to Heathcrow’s nature, it has a magically unlimited amount of gold in some regions however, it is incredibly dangerous to mine in Heathcrow.)
- Herbalists guild (Heathcrow has the widest selections of herbs and poisons, giving it a stranglehold on the potions market.)
- The Hunters Mug (A highly renowned guild for the most powerful of adventurers that reside in heathcrow and keep it’s smaller cities safe from beasts.)

RELIGION

- depends on the town but mostly follows gods of hope or chaos

MILITARY

- bunch of mercenaries that hunt monsters. due to the nature of heathcrow, it is difficult to uphold major governments and also very unnecessary due to

NOTABLE FIGURES

- Jeremiah Crendleman (The warlock who in an attempt to create a form of Planar Transit to allow everyone to travel across long distances and even planes accidentally cursed his homeland to fuse with one of the hells, making him the first “Fool king”

CHAPTER 14

ALL RACES AND THEIR GENERAL LIFESTYLES

RACE NAME

- Changeling
 - Eberonn
- Demons

- Description:

Demons are magical humanoids that closely resemble humans, created through unknown arcane means. While outwardly indistinguishable, their minds function differently—lacking natural empathy and instead relying on learned behavior to imitate it.

Traits:

Ability score increase= +2 Cha, +1 Int.

Age= Mature at birth and infinite lifespan.

Alignment= Demons are born inherently evil and nearly never align with good unless under very specific circumstances.

Size= demons vary between 4-8 feet tall.

Speed= Base walking and flying speed of 30 ft.

Deceptive. you gain proficiency in deception

Relentless Endurance. When you are reduced to 0 hit points but not killed outright, you can drop to 1 hit point instead. You can't use this feature again until you finish a long rest.

Savage Attacks. When you score a critical hit with a melee weapon attack, you can roll one of the weapon's damage dice one additional time and add it to the extra damage of the critical hit.

Mana Eater. You sense the presence of magic within 30 feet of you. If you sense magic in this way, you can use your action to see a faint aura around any visible creature or object in the area that bears magic Languages. You can speak, read, and write Common and Demon.

Culture: Demonic society is built on hierarchy, power, and survival rather than connection. Alliances are often temporary and based on advantage rather than trust. What appears as cooperation is usually strategic, with individuals constantly vying for dominance or control.

Homelands: Demons are most commonly found in remote or hostile regions, though many embed themselves within other societies to observe, manipulate, or hunt. Their presence is often hidden until it is too late.
